Quiz Evening at
The Cross Keys,
Royal Wootton Bassett
20 February 2020

Fifteen of us gathered at the Cross Keys for a meal, and a quiz written by Andrew McGuire.

Congratulations to the winning team, composed of Peter, Marilyn, Chris, Martin and Jenny.

Thank you Andrew for the Dingbats which had us all very puzzled, and the 20 general knowledge questions!

Recently Bill found his water temperature gauge was only reaching about 62°, when the working temperature of the car is about 80°. He thought the thermostat was sticking, so had it replaced ... no difference. He replaced the sensor ... still no difference. He then used a meat thermometer to measure the temperature in the header tank - 81°. So suspicion now falls on the gauge itself, or possibly the wire to the gauge.

Moral of the story: always carry a meat thermometer.
